DETAILED ACTION

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the Amendment filed 30 December 2003.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-19 are remain provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-22 of copending Application No. 10/222,132. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed limitations in the instant application and the copending Application No. 10/222,132 both claims same invention differs only in the terminology, i.e., the instant application is a destruction system for a card, whereas the copending Application No. 10/222,132 is a destruction system for an item. It would have been obvious to an artisan of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to recognize that the card is an item and/or item includes a card.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-19 would be allowable upon timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) to overcome the provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application (see the Double Patenting Rejection above).

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Nagaoka teaches a card destruction system for destroying the card based on the stored data having a reader that is configured to read identification information from a card; a controller is coupled to the internal components for their control/communication, wherein the controller is configured to receive the identification information and to determine whether the card is to be destroyed; a card destruction device that is configured to receive and destroy cards; a card insertion sensor and a card output sensor for specifying the time limit for judging the card and wherein the card is judged to have zero balance, the card is transferred to belt of conveyor through the shredder. The insertion sensor detects the card when the card has entered the moving system, and the output sensor detects the card when the card has exited the reader.

Chang discloses a medium shredding machine having a medium delivery sensor to sense when the card is delivered to a card destruction device for controlling the activation of the shredder.

Vulcano discloses a machine for sorting medium having an optical reader to read the indicia on the medium for controlling the sorting function, which includes shredding the medium. The machine includes the moving system having a feed mechanism that having a feed hopper is configured to feed individual cards from a stack of card to the path of the moving system and a controller that recognized the medium being sorted and wherein the controller performs all housekeeping functions.

One of ordinary skill in the art would not have been motivated to modify the teachings of Nagaoka, Chang, and Vulcano, alone or in combination with other references, in order to obtain a card destruction system configured to produce an automatic record of the destruction based on the received identification information used to identify and determined each card to be destroyed, as set forth in the claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
